PROJECT PAKISTAN 2004

“Impact a generation with God’s Word”

Pakistan is a beautiful country, and offers a great variety of vistas which range from some of the highest mountains of the world, to fertile plains and arid deserts. The work of The Bible Society in Pakistan began in 1863. In recent years they have had to navigate the increasingly hostile landscape of Pakistan with great wisdom and sensitivity. Up to 97% of Pakistan’s population is Muslim, while only 2.5% (3.7 million) is Christian. They are one of the largest Christian communities in any Muslim nation. Christians have inherited the jobs of their lower caste Hindu descendents and work mainly as cleaners, earning a meagre $2.50 per day. More than half the Christian population lives below the poverty line and they struggle simply to survive. Bibles are not illegal in Pakistan, but they cannot be read in public. The Bible is made available through stalls, festivals and Church events, however many Christians are too poor to afford one. The Bible Society produces Scripture Based literacy materials which will enable people to learn God’s Word and improve their reading skills. Children will learn the Urdu alphabet using Bible Characters and verses. All donations towards Bike for Bibles events will go towards New Reader Scriptures for the poor. Despite the dominance of Islam, Christians are happy, joyful, and generous people rich in faith.

LITERACY for LIFE...
taking literacy to people around the world.

Most of us in Australia can’t imagine illiteracy. We may have had to help someone who “forgot their glasses” to read something. But in parts of Pakistan whole communities may only have a few literate people.

Imagine a mother not being able to read the correct dose for her child’s medicine, a farmer unable to read instructions for herbicides, a Sunday school teacher not being able to read a bible story to children.

Literacy for Life will help change that.

ORGANISE YOUR OWN RIDE

Can't make it to any Bike for Bibles rides? YOU CAN HAVE YOUR OWN RIDE! Many people find their Bike for Bibles event to be a time of bonding, as they work together for a common Christian purpose. Organising your own Bike for Bibles ride is a fun way to build an atmosphere of expectation, and then of achievement working together for God's Kingdom. As the organiser of the ride you decide when, where, who and how for your event, with as much support as you need from the Bike for Bibles office.
